New: Letters from Cue Adults

April 8, 2002 – Cleveland, OH — The National Cued Speech Association announces the publication of Letters from Cue Adults — a collection of letters from 12 young adult deaf cuers, most of whom had their letters as children published in the Cued Speech Resource Book for Parents of Deaf Children.

Now that they are adults, their letters tell of the high and low points of their lives, recent achievements, and experiences and feelings about spoken languages through Cued Speech and signed languages. The authors, from France, England, and throughout the United States, are interesting, instructive, and inspiring.

Letters from Cue Adults is available through the NCSA bookstore, Cued Speech Discovery, as an individual item or as a free supplement to the Cued Speech Resource Book. More information is available at www.cuedspeech.org, 800-459-3529 v/tty or CuedSpDisc@aol.com.
