FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Cued Speech Bookstore Online With New Website for Products and Information

November 3, 2003 – Cleveland, OH — The National Cued Speech Association invites you to wander around the newly redesigned www.cuedspeech.org to see what you can discover! One reviewer stated, “NCSA’s new website is a virtual Disneyland of avenues to follow to new knowledge and experiences.”

If you are interested in the history of Cued Speech or wondering which languages and dialects have Cued Speech adaptations, look under the “Cued Speech” menu heading. Do you want to join a class or attend a camp? Click on “Events” above the masthead and to the right. Voila! Classes and workshops galore.

In the “Viewpoints” menu, cuers who are deaf tell what they think about Cued Speech in “Deaf Cuer Profiles”.

You can read back issues of On Cue newsletter under “Resources > NCSA Publications” by scrolling to the bottom of the page where pdf files are ready for reading or downloading. Also in the “Resources” menu, you will find items such as a list of certified instructors. The process for becoming a certified instructor is detailed under “Professionals”.

Do you want to buy a book, a tee shirt or some computer cueing games? A link under “Resources” will take you directly to Cued Speech Discovery bookstore at www.cuedspeech.com. You can make a donation or pay for membership at either www.cuedspeech.org or www.cuedspeech.com.

New avenues and destinations are being added continually, so visitors should return frequently!

The National Cued Speech Association and its Deaf Children’s Literacy Project champion effective communication, language acquisition and literacy through the use of Cued Speech. Literacy is the original and primary goal of Cued Speech, achieved by providing clear communication in the appropriate phonemic language base for learning to read. Cued Speech also supports the development of lipreading, auditory discrimination, and speech.
